The Zenith of Modern Storekeeping

IT is found in the cabinets of all the highly civilized nations. Emperors, Kings, Presidents and Prime Ministers are occupied with the same questions as the great contemporary retailers. Commerce controls imperial policies. The creation of new markets in which to sell things inspires England, Germany and France, in Africa.

Gastronomy and Thanksgiving

The dinner table is the pivot of the holiday next Thursday. The amount of downright good reading couldn't be bought in dining room and the kitchen supply topics for to-day's store news. Every housekeeper may read with profit all that follows. Economy is the twin of elegance in our Thanksgiving autology.
